KPFK SWITCHBOARD
(818) 985-2711
9 AM to 5 PM, Monday - Friday

By the time you receive this Folio, KPFK will be ready to begin our ten day Winter Fund Drive effort. Please express your support in a big way to help make this effort successful. A huge 80% of our income comes from your support during these periods. The Fund Drive will begin on February 27th and conclude on International Women's Day on March 8th. A full report will be written in next month's Folio. A quick report on the letter sent out to all subscribers. The Court of Appeals issued a stay on the Jesse Helms amendment. The request for a stay filed by Pacifica, Action for Children's Television and others, signals a temporary victory in our FCC battle. We will keep you informed.

The General Manager Search Committee began formal interviews of candidates on February 15th. A March 1st start date for a new General Manager now seems less likely, however, by next month's Folio issue the Search Committee in all likelihood will have made a recommendation to Pacifica's Executive Director for hire. The Executive Director will then present that recommendation to the Executive Committee of the Pacifica National Board of Directors who will make the final decision.

The January Pacifica National Board meeting was held in Los Angeles and KPFK served as the host station. A packed agenda required that the meetings be convened a day earlier than usual. A major portion of this board meeting was spent on the issue of corporate underwriting. A number of you sent letters and mailgrams to me, to express your disapproval of the issue of underwriting. Those concerns were duly noted and a number of interested listeners attended the Saturday board meeting to hear the discussions and express their viewpoints. I personally was not looking forward to the discussion, especially remembering the last time this issue was raised. That experience was pegged rather appropriately, the "Pacifica Wars." However, the discussion on Saturday and Sunday as well as preliminary discussions on Friday were a pleasant surprise in the level of sophistication and maturity of this debate. There were extremely well articulated arguments from both pro and con, as well as discussion on an overall question of development and how additional revenues can be generated.

The debate was never a question of Pacifica stations generally accepting corporate underwriting. Most of the discussion centered on a joint proposal made by Pacifica's two smallest stations in Houston and Washington requesting a limited period of time to experiment with business memberships and airing programs, not locally produced, which carry underwriting tags. Their requests with both business memberships and underwritten programs called for research and approval by Pacifica of the ethical, political and social responsibility of these businesses. Both stations are facing serious economic problems and severely understaffed operations. In the last three years Pacifica has poured close to $400,000 into both WPFW and KPFT in growth grants and supplementary revenue/emergency items. Houston is slumbering back after its economy was nailed with the oil glut. Washington is dealing with an audience not as inclined to philanthropic giving as the other areas, and exists in a city with major competition on both the commercial and non-commercial bands. So what do we do and how do these stations make it with only limited income from Pacifica to subsidize their operations?

The board heard these concerns, heard the opposition to them, and worked out a compromise for the two smaller stations that does not intrude on Pacifica's prohibition against corporate underwriting. The board resolved to allow the two smaller stations in Houston and Washington D.C., to experiment with donor announcements for a two year period following guidelines set forth by their respective local boards and Pacifica National. The guidelines will take into account the ethical, political and social responsibility of these donor announcements, would not exceed two per day, and would be for the station's general operation and not program-specific. The Board also resolved that the two smaller stations would be given permission to broadcast programs produced by outside sources that include underwriting tags, using the same criteria listed above for an experimental period of one year. Full reporting and evaluation were requested by the Board on both experiments. This resolution does not apply to the three larger stations including KPFK. Many of you have written about this issue so I have tried to provide the text of the discussion in as much detail as possible. Thank you all for your concern.

In the ten words or less that I have left in this column, other areas of the Board meeting covered Pacifica's 40th anniversary activities, the Pacifica Archive move into the KPFK building, national programming, and a great party organized by the Latino programmers with special thanks to Marcos Rubenstein.
Lastly, this is my final report to the listener, I think. I would like to thank you all for your generous support.

The Pacifica Foundation provides the KPFK mailing list to an organization which in turn rents or exchanges, on behalf of the Foundation, mailing lists of other non-profit organizations. If you object to having your name and address used in this way, please write to our Subscriptions Department, enclosing a recent Folio label, and we will omit you from our exchange list.

If your request to have your name and address not given to other organizations has already been entered in our computer, the letters "NX" will appear on the top line of your mailing label, to the right of the expiration date.
